WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1890

The Constitutional convention may abolish the office of Jailor. In that event the Sheriff will have charge of the county prison.

EVERY Democrat in the Ninth district should go to the polls in November and cast a vote for Paynter. Let's all see how large we can make the majority.

The Republican journals that congratulated the farmers a few days ago when the tariff on binding twine was removed, have been as mum as a mouse since the duty was restored.

An exchange says: "The Republican party has never added an acre to the territory of the Union." But in making States out of "Territorial mining camps" they have proved a big success.

Under the present Constitution Sheriffs have to be elected every two years. The Constitutional convention may extend the term to four years and make Sheriffs and their Deputies ineligible for re-election.

It is going to take the Constitutional convention a long time to fix up a new Constitution at the present rate of doing business. Nothing was accomplished yesterday, and the delegates voted to go to Louisville to-morrow on a frolic.

It begins to look like too many politicians and rich men worked their way into the Constitutional convention. The people didn't send the delegates there for any money business, and the sooner they realize that and get down to work the better will it be for them hereafter.

The grand total of the appropriations by the present Republican Congress for the fiscal year 1890-91 is $462,939,956, an increase of $40,313,613 over the appropriations by the last Congress. That doesn't look much like the G. O. P. believes in an economical administration of the National Government.

The Independents of Pennsylvania denounce Quay and Delamater in language that is "plain, outspoken and emphatic." It begins to look like Pattison will wipe out that big Republican majority as he did some years ago. But why shouldn't he? He is a man respected by all, while his opponent is openly charged as being a corruptionist and the tool of corporations.

When the Republican Senate voted to put binding twine on the free list a week or so ago, a great many Republican journals "put their foot in it," so to speak. They congratulated the farmers, told them the twine trust had been dealt a blow, and that hereafter the wheat-growers would not be compelled to pay tribute to this monopoly on every sheaf of grain harvested. But lo! and behold, the Republicans of the House have had the duty on twine restored. The article was not allowed to remain on the free list. Will these Republican journals have the cheek now to assure the farmers that the tariff is not a tax?

A PARAGRAPH on the editorial page of the New York Tribune says: "In an orchard near Visalia, Cal., 1,102 pounds of prunes were recently gathered from one tree, which is six years old. Other trees in the same orchard are equally prolific and the product of one acre has brought $1,900." And yet the tariff bill doubles the protective duty on prunes. The Tribune also quotes the San Francisco Chronicle as estimating that the fruit shipments from California to the East this year will reach 10,000 car loads, or 200,000,000 pounds. It says: "At an average price of 5 cents a pound—which may be considered low, as the above embraces a vast quantity of dried fruit, which sells at from 8 to 20 cents a pound—our surplus export will bring the State at least $10,000,000."

The Senate has a deep interest in large capitalists, but none at all in small ones. It voted to limit the sugar bounty to producers of 500 pounds or more. This leaves most of the maple sugar producers and some of the sorghum sugar producers with no bounty, while the large producers are to get 2 cents a pound. People of small means have no rights that Republican Senators are bound to respect. On motion of Senator Sherman the Senate limited the drawback on exports of burlaps to quantities worth not less than $10. A New York linen merchant said of this: "We sell a great many small exporters burlaps, where the duty on any bill does not amount to $10. It is a common occurrence to have bills where the duty is $5, $6 and $7, and by the provision of Senator Sherman's amendment, these dealers will receive no drawback, and are, therefore, placed at a manifest disadvantage in competing with large corporations whose purchases are more extensive."—National Democrat.

FROM FOOLS' PARADISE.

The Courier-Journal's Comments on Congressman McKinley's Closing Tariff Speech.

In making the closing arguments on the Conference report Mr. McKinley said: "Gentlemen on the other side had said that the bill would not increase the demand for a single grain of wheat, or a bushel of corn, or a pound of meat."

Mr. Blaine put the argument against the McKinley bill in that form; is he to be referred to by the Republican leaders as a gentleman on the other side?

Mr. McKinley continued: "They forgot that when the bill became a law and the new industry of manufacturing our own tin is established, employment would be furnished to a large number of men, which would mean the support of 50,000 people. And these 50,000 people would be new consumers and thereby create a demand for the products of the farmers of the West."

New consumers; what are new consumers? Infants may be described as new consumers. McKinley's 50,000 new consumers are "consuming" the products of American farmers today. No tariff bill can create a body of 50,000 new consumers. Does the gentleman from Ohio mean that these 50,000 have grown up on air? Or will he bring them from abroad; 50,000 pauper laborers to be supported by a tax of $10,000,000?

The bewildered Republican leader continued his random remarks in this fashion:

"This bill recognizes the principle which was found in the Morrill act—a principle on which this country has risen to be the first manufacturing nation in the world. The gentlemen on the other side would tax the people of this country to make an income for the Government; the Republican party would tax the product of other people seeking markets in the United States, to supply the necessary revenues of the Government."

We are certain William McKinley, of Ohio, is the only living statesman who believes that by a tariff on imports we force the foreigner to pay the expenses of Government.

If this "theory" is true, why can not the Ways and Means Committee abolish all internal taxes, double our import duties and make the fool foreigners pay not half but every dollar required to meet Government expenses?

Mr. McKinley opposes a service pension; but if we can make the foreigner pay for it, the Courier-Journal is in favor of a service pension.

If the foreigner pays the duty, then we ought to abolish the free list.

If the foreigner pays the duty, it is the height of folly to remove the sugar tax; we should not consent to relieve the foreigners of a tax of $60,000,000 as long as a dollar is derived from internal taxes.

But the Ohio gentleman is as inconsistent as he is incoherent; having boasted that the Republican tariff was a patent device to make the foreigners pay our taxes, he then claimed the gratitude of the country because the Republicans had enlarged the free list. "This bill," he said, "if it becomes a law, would put on the free list one-half of all the products which the United States imported, the like of which was never known in any tariff bill passed by the Congress of the United States. Under the Mills bill only 40 per cent of the foreign importations were placed on the free list."

If the fundamental propositions he lays down to the effect that by a tariff on imports foreigners can be made to pay the expenses of our Government, then an enlargement of the free list is high treason.

One can not take the Ohio gentleman seriously. Each speech he makes reveals some new depth of ignorance. When he is silent he is most persuasive; when he speaks he gives away himself with his cause. Never before in the history of representative Government have the revenue affairs of Government been confided to a man so profoundly, so irremediably, so irreconcilably ignorant of the first laws of industry and finance and commerce as the Hon. William McKinley of Fools' Paradise.

The Tenth (Ky.) District.

The Republicans of the Tenth district nominated Hon. Robert C. Hill, of Lee County, for Congress. The nomination was tendered Dr. A. H. Stuart, of Preston, but he declined. Mr. Hill, the nominee, has represented Lee and Estill counties in the Lower House of the Legislature for the last two terms. The district is composed of the counties of Breathitt, Floyd, Clark, Elliott, Estill, Johnson, Knott, Lee, Magoffin, Menifee, Montgomery, Martin, Morgan, Pike, Powell and Wolfe, and is considered Democratic by 2,560. Most of the counties are mountain counties, and are governed by personal as much as by political preferences. The Democratic nominee, Hon. J. W. Kendall, is from one of the mountain counties and is a very popular man, and will doubtless be elected by a safe majority.

Paynter and the Alliance.

The Farmers' Alliance and kindred orders were brought into existence because the legislation of the past thirty years has been adverse to agricultural communities, and unduly favorable to manufacturing communities, compelling the former to "protect" the latter. For this order of things the Republican party alone is responsible.

The Democratic party has been opposing the dogma of protection for ninety years, and if the Farmers' Alliance would have relief from unjust legislation it must look to the Democratic party for that relief.

The Alliance of Eastern Kentucky appears to have been captured by the Republicans, and it is proposed to run an Alliance candidate for Congress against Mr. Paynter, who, in Congress, has shown himself to be an attorney of the people as against the protected classes. This is very foolish on the part of the leaders of the Alliance movement. — Louisville Times

The National House of Representatives has passed by "unanimous consent," a bill that "provides that any person or persons who shall use the National flag, either by printing, painting or affixing on said flag, or otherwise attaching to the same, any advertisement for public display, or private gain, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof in the District Court of the United States shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $50, or imprisoned not less than thirty days, or both, at the discretion of the court."

THE ANTI LOTTERY LAW.

Its Provisions Too Plain to be Misunderstood—Its Penalty a Heavy One.

The anti-lottery law recently passed by Congress will serve to put a check on lotteries, gift enterprises, raffish and all other similar enterprises. Its provisions are very plain, and the penalty for a violation of the law is pretty severe. The first and principal clause of the new law reads as follows:

No letter, postal card or circular containing any lottery, so-called gift concern or other similar enterprise offering prizes dependent upon lot or chance, or concerning schemes devised for the purpose of obtaining money or property under false pretenses, and no list of drawings at any lottery or similar scheme, and no lottery ticket or part thereof, and no check, draft, bill, money, postal note or money order for the purchase of any ticket, tickets or part thereof, or of any share or any chance in any such lottery or gift enterprise, shall be carried in the mail or delivered at or through any postoffice or branch thereof, or by any letter-carrier; nor shall any newspaper, circular, pamphlet or publication of any kind containing any advertisement of any lottery or gift enterprise of any kind offering prizes dependent upon lot or chance, or containing any list of prizes awarded at the drawings of any such lottery or gift enterprise, whether said list is of any part or of all of the drawing, be carried in the mail or delivered by any postmaster or letter-carrier. Any person who shall knowingly cause to be delivered by mail anything herein forbidden to be carried by mail, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be punished by a fine of not more than $100 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment for each offense. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section may be proceeded against by information or indictment, and tried and punished, either in the district at which the unlawful publication was mailed or to which it is carried by mail for delivery, according to the direction thereon, or at which it is caused to be delivered by mail to the person to whom it is addressed.

For the Farmer.

Isaac Shelby, Jr., of Boyle County, has sold his coming clip from between three and four hundred sheep at 25 cents per pound straight through, no pick.

An exchange announces that the best grades of cattle are fifty to sixty cents per hundred lbs. higher at Chicago than they were twelve months ago. Heavy hogs are twenty-five cents higher than then, while light weights show no quotable difference.

The Danville Advocate says: "The largest sale of fat cattle in Boyle County, during the season, was made by Mr. J. C. Caldwell, to an agent for Goldsmith, of New York, last week, at $4.25. He sold 275 head at these figures, with the exception of one load at four cents. They were weighed the early part of the week and averaged close to 1,600 pounds."

The Richmond Climax says: "H. H. Colyer has lost $350 worth of sheep, killed by dogs, within the past year. Nine dogs were recently killed on his place, but that doesn't pay for the sheep." If the Legislature should tax the mangy curs to pay for the sheep they kill, there would be a big howl—not from the curs, but from their owners.

FLEXIBLE, DAINTY, HEALTHFUL.

Cork Sole Turned Shoes

Are as flexible and dainty as the finest turn, and are the easiest walking shoe made, the cork acting as a cushion to the foot. The cork being secured in a pocket, thus forming a part of the shoe, it is impossible for it to work loose or break up. They are also the most healthful shoe, as CORK IS A NON-CONDUCTOR OF HEAT AND MOISTURE. It prevents the warmth of the bottom of the foot from radiating and escaping in cold weather, and in warm weather it prevents the heat from the pavements from penetrating the foot.

LADIES wearing our Cork Soled Turned Shoes needn't fear cold, hot, damp or rough walks. They are as flexible and dainty a shoe as the lightest turned shoe made. Come and see them; they are a thing of beauty and comfort. Come and see, also, the largest retail stock of Boots and Shoes in the State. Selling at 25 per cent. less than anybody else sells them.

NEAR Harrodsburg, a shepherd dog owned by Robert Forsythe has become one of the most expert tobacco worms thereabout. He picks the worms from the leaves and kills them twice as fast as the hands. Another dog in the same neighborhood is an inveterate bee hunter and fighter. He spends hours in hunting bumble bees' nests in the fields. When he finds one he does not rest until he kills every bee in sight. Such is the story that comes from Mercer County.

DEKALB LODGE No. 12, I. O. O. F., last night elected representatives to the Grand Lodge meeting, which will be held October 28th at Louisville. The following were the successful candidates: Messrs. R. A. Toup, Thos. A. Davis, John Duley, Byron Rudy and John W. Thompson. The order is flourishing in Kentucky as it is everywhere else. The increase in membership in this State the past year will reach about 700. The two lodges in this city are among the most prosperous in Kentucky.

GEORGE WILSON's Minstrels will be the attraction at the opera house to-morrow night. They were at Richmond, Va., August 8th, and the Richmond State spoke of them as follows: "Wilson's Minstrels, greater than ever, appeared before a packed audience at Mozart Academy. The entertainment was the very refinement of first-class minstrelsy, and was applauded from start to finish. There is no need of detailed mention. The company as a whole is immense, the performance a first-class one and the supplementary season was ushered in by a good show, which was heartily enjoyed by a huge crowd."

SOME MINER MATTERS.

Not minor matters, mark you.
The matters we have in view are far from being minor or unimportant. But of course you understand the point.

Miner Matters Are Shoes.

Nobody in Maysville can think of MINER without thinking of Shoes. What we want is that nobody in Maysville think of Shoes without thinking of MINER.

We want them to think

Miner Sells Good Shoes.

But we don't want them to say regretfully, "Yes, but I can't afford to buy good Shoes."

That's the way of it.

Lots of people think that a good Shoe, such as we sell, must be an expensive luxury. We want it remembered that our GOOD shoes are as cheap as not-good Shoes, price against price. And when quality is considered, our good shoes are cheaper than not good Shoes.

Know everybody that

Ireland Not the Only Country in Want,

FOR ITALY IS NO BETTER OFF.

Poverty Daily Increasing, Which is Fast Leading to Brigandage and Lawlessness—Rejoicing in Germany Over the Expiration of the Anti-Socialist Laws.

Other Foreign News.
LONDON, Oct. 1.—Ireland is not the only country menaced with serious want. In Italy the government has been informed by several prefects that there is serious apprehension of trouble in their provinces from the number of unemployed workmen who live in the utmost misery. In some of the provincial towns the men have become troublesome and have done some mischief, and they threaten to do more unless work is provided for them.

In Calabria a large number of peasants assembled in arms and shouted for the pope and the priests. They were dispersed by a detachment of carabinieri. The people in many districts feel keenly the transfer of the control of pious foundations from the clergy to the civil authorities. The priests knew the poor more intimately than the civil officers do, and they were better acquainted with the needs of the community. The situation, in some respects, is not dissimilar from that which followed the abolition of the monasteries in England, when the roads were thronged with beggars and the relief given by the monks was succeeded by the stocks and the whipping post.

The serious increase in Italian brigandage and general lawlessness is thought to be attributable in no small degree to the increasing poverty of the masses, which forces many of the more turbulent of the unemployed into paths of crime.

Anti-Socialist Law Expired.
BERLIN, Oct. 1.—There was much excitement in Germany yesterday and yesterday evening over the expiration of the anti-socialist law. The Socialists indulging in general rejoicing. Thirty Socialists who had been in exile arrived in Berlin yesterday afternoon and received an ovation.

Public meetings were held in several halls, all being crowded. Many illuminations appeared in the streets in the evening in honor of the occasion. Numerous processions were formed, and some of them became disorderly and were dispersed by the police, but no violence or injury resulted. At Hamburg nineteen exiles returned and were enthusiastically greeted. Similar scenes were enacted in all the large cities.

Japanese Government Denounced.
YOKOHAMA, Oct. 1.—A public meeting has been held here, at which a number of prominent Japanese made speeches denouncing the government for conceding the right of trial by judges other than native judges. The speakers were enthusiastically received by the audience, and the ex-consul of Great Britain was threatened with death for having advocated the privileges to foreigners. The matter has created intense public excitement.

Iron Workers' Troubles in Scotland.
LONDON, Oct. 1.—The terms demanded by the workmen have been definitely declined by the iron masters of Scotland. Support is pledged to the striking Scotch workers by the iron workers of Cumberland, provided the former insist upon eight-hour shifts. The Glasgow pig iron market has been strengthened by the apparent futility of all efforts at a settlement of the trouble.

Murdered All on Board.
LONDON, Oct. 1.—Information has reached here of the massacre by natives of Capt. Hedley, owner of the cutter Isabel, of Hartlepool, together with the crew of the vessel, while engaged in fishing for pearls off the coast of New Guinea. After the murder of all on board the Papuan savages looted and scuttled the cutter.

O'Brien and Dillon.
DUBLIN, Oct. 1.—After hearing argument upon the motion to remove the case of O'Brien, Dillon and others from the Tipperary court on the ground of bias, the high court of justice reserved its decision.

Started for Rome.
LIMERICK, Oct. 1.—Bishop O'Dwyer, whose opposition to the plan of campaign has brought him into a bitter controversy with his National parishioners, has started for Rome to see the pope.

RACE DISCRIMINATION.
End of a Suit That Has Attracted Universal Attention.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 1.—A suit that has attracted universal attention in this city for some days past has just been terminated. In May last Charles Sheldon, a prominent colored man of this city, visited a variety of entertainments on Eugene Robinson's floating palace and wanted to purchase a ticket of admission. The sellers offered him a ticket to the colored gallery. He refused it and demanded a reserved seat, the best one in the house, for which he was charged $100.

Sheldon left the boat and went up town and pawned sufficient jewelry for the amount, returned, purchased a reserved seat ticket and entered, but remained only a few moments. He left and immediately filed suit for $100, and damages in like amount under the civil rights law. The case has been on trial for the past five days, some of the ablest lawyers in the state being pitted against each other. The jury found for the defendant Robinson.

PURCELL, I. T., Oct. 1.—Three burglars, armed with rifles, entered the store of J. H. Carey & Company last night. One held Carey and two clerks at bay with his rifle, while the others plundered the store. As the robbers were about to leave Carey ran toward the office when the robbers fired on him killing him instantly.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

PHANNON.
Preliminary to the funeral sermon by Elder W. W. Hall, of Williamstown, on Sunday Sept. 28, at Phannon Church, in the presence of an overflowed house Rev. Dr. Anderson read the 80th Psalm, followed by a fervent, earnest prayer. This was a solemn service with a sad sweet solo, "Abide With Me," by the organist Miss Bland.

Dr. Hall's text was 1 Peter chapter 1, 23, 24, and 25th verses, "Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God which abideth forever." The speaker gave new interpretation to "being born again," death becoming the medium of transfer to a state of unselfish life and undying glory at God's right hand. The death of the body was the birth of the soul. Many were struck with the extreme felicity of Elder Hall's characterization of his veteran friend and old parishioner. Dr. Anderson followed in a brief tribute to his generous neighbor and personal friend.

To diversify the solemn occasion, with much taste the organist introduced eulogatory songs at fitting intervals, the music blending in thrilling harmony with sympathetic emotions of the assembly.

William Forman was a typical Kentuckian—brave, unselfish and philanthropic. He was born in Mason, near Washington, where he lived 41 years, the remaining forty-four on Deeba Farm—Shannon. He was the last of six brothers and three sisters of the family of Joseph and Mary Forman. He married Phoebe Glenn February 18th, 1828, and enjoyed 16 years of happy married life. He was a self-made man, a successful farmer, faithful and economical wife. As Elder Hall puts it "she was the Queen of the Realm."

He was a liberal contributor to the erection of church buildings, and to the education of the poor. His wife came in largely for his benefactions, and the pastors thereof were never long to forget the good, faithful and cheerful testimony.

The scriptures say "the poor you have always with you." This we literally have of Mr. Forman, and right well did he do his duty. The widow and orphans were visited in their afflictions—the naked were clothed and the hungry were fed from his abundant store, so much so, that one of his beneficiaries said "Mr. Forman was the clearest I ever knew."

His lineal descendants consist of two surviving daughters, seven grandsons and two great granddaughters.

The Forman casket was covered with black broad cloth, oxydized silver handles, silk plush bar, decorated with anchor, ermine, cross, pillow and sickle, artistically wrought in Marcellus N. and the rest. The casket rested on a pile of white cloth. "At Rest" in violets was the motto on the pillow. "Our Father" was inscribed on the silver breast plate. Over a hundred persons viewed the remains in the Phannon Church, which were quite life-like, after the impressive service was over. An intelligent and discriminating citizen of Maysville said to the writer as we were saying our farewells at the grave, "I have never in my life read or witnessed a funeral occasion where everything that was said and done in speech, in song, in burial with so much appropriateness."

THE MCKINLEY BILL.
Some English Comments on Its Effect. America Will Be the Chief Sufferer.

The London News, commenting on the McKinley bill, says: "We are, happily, old hands in contests of this kind, and will not be driven by any provocation to the suicidal policy of resorting to either reciprocity or retaliation."

"The enterprise of our traders will find in one corner of the globe—in Asia, Africa or on the continent of America—more than sufficient to compensate for this incredibly foolish measure. The great loss will be to the United States."

"The earlier tariff has already paralyzed their export trade in many of our cases, and the McKinley bill may kill it. The true danger to England is industrial supremacy will begin only when free trade opens to these intelligent and powerful rivals the markets of the world."

The Times predicts that the McKinley bill will cut both ways, and in a manner surprising to its authors. "It will do grave harm to America and dislocate the general industries of the world. America will be the chief sufferer in the end."

"Things elsewhere will adjust themselves in course of time to the new course of trade, while America will be eternally paying higher prices for inferior grades and wasting her labor and industrial energy in vain and misdirected efforts in disregard of natural economic laws."

DON'T LIKE CHICAGO BEEF.
Rumor That Germany Contemplates Excluding the Pork Restrictions.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—A Berlin cable says: "The German government has no intention of making an early withdrawal of its prohibition against the importation of American pork into this country."

"On the contrary, it is currently reported that the inquiries which have recently been made into the condition of the great slaughter houses of Chicago and other places in the United States, at the instance of the German government, have shown, according to the allegations of German officials, that almost all the meat which is killed in them is unhealthy, and therefore Germany is considering whether she ought not also prohibit imports of American beef as well as pork, as being almost equally unwholesome. Of course, it stands to reason that all this is politics rather than facts; in other words, that the government here desires to get up some good reason for shutting out American beef for economical considerations. It is not believed that anything will come of this rather blundering attempt at a scare."

Strike Growing Serious.
RICHMOND, Mo., Oct. 1.—The strike of the coal miners near Camden, which has been in operation about five weeks, is assuming a serious aspect. The striking men object to the system of supply stores of the company which they claim are run on the "plunk me" plan. They also wish the semi-monthly payment of wages restored.

Saturday about thirty new men were brought to the mines, but the strikers refused to allow them to go to work. It is feared violence will ensue if the company insist on putting new men to work. About 400 miners are idle.

Fourth Fall.
CINCINNATI, Oct. 1.—John Weston fell from the topmost part of the tower of the new city hall, to the ground at 3:30 p. m., yesterday. He struck on his head, crushing the skull and breaking his neck. He was a laborer living at 482 West Fourth street.

A Small Village's Loss.
NASHVILLE, Oct. 1.—Fire early yesterday morning destroyed the entire business portion of Oneonta, the county seat of Blount county. Loss about $30,000, partially insured.
